In the event that your application for a Canadian Centennial Scholarship is successful, the Canadian Centennial Scholarship Fund ("CCSF") and Canadian Women's club and its charitable arm the Maple Leaf Trust (collectively the "CWC") (the main supporter of the CCSF), may wish to publicise your award. Candidates must agree to have their details released, in accordance with the conditions outlined below, in order to receive an award. By submitting an application, I consent to the disclosure of my details for the purposes of generating positive publicity about the CCSF in the event that my application is successful. I further provide my consent to the disclosure by the CCSF and CWC of my name, university, area of study and photograph.

The information provided to the CCSF may be displayed on the CCSF website, included in newsletters prepared by the CCSF or the CWC or in other materials which publicise the CCSF's activities and make it more widely known.

NOTE TO THOSE GIVING REFERENCES

The CCSF selection committee relies to a great extent upon the assessments of those who give references. In addition to learning the length of time and the capacity in which you have known the applicant, we are particularly interested in having your frank and recent appraisal of the applicant's academic ability, personality and qualifications for the proposed programme of study.

Please use separate sheets where space does not permit full answers and please do not write on the reverse side of pages.

Please send your completed statement well before the closing date of March 8, 2010, to the applicant, in a sealed envelope signed on the overlap. It will be considered as confidential and will not be shown to the candidate. Please do not send directly to the CCSF committee unless you feel this is essential.

The deadline of March 8, 2010 cannot be extended - all completed applications must be in the CCSF office by this date.
